37TH ANNUAL POTLUCK DINNER

6:00 PM

“The Maine Homefront in World War I”

7:00 P.M. for talk only

Earle Shettleworth, Maine State Historian, State Historic Preservation Officer, and Director of the Maine Historic Preservation Commission returns to speak at our Annual Dinner.

Ninety- nine years ago this spring, on April 6, 1917, America entered World War I. With the same patriotic fervor that Maine had responded to a call for troops in the Civil War, more than 32,000 men and women across the state joined the military in 1917-18 to fight in a “war to end all wars” that promised to “make the world safe for democracy.

This illustrated lecture documents the role played by Maine men and women in World War I, especially here at home. Previously unseen historic photographs, many of them real photo post cards of the period, tell the story of recruitment, troop departures, parades, bond drives, shipbuilding, war-related industries, and knitting socks for the soldiers. This chapter in Maine’s past comes alive in these century old pictures.

Hosts: Margaret Wellman and Mitchell Wellman

MAY 2016

FRIDAY, MAY 20

Nobleboro Historical Society

"Tide Mills In Midcoast Maine"

7:00 PM

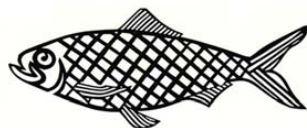

Local maritime historian Bud Warren will tell the story of Maine's early tidal mills. Bud is also known as The Tide Mill Man. He researched and lectured extensively on maritime topics and has also been active in several archaeological excavations of Maine's coastal sites. Early settler dammed coves and set up water wheels to harness the power of the tides and over 150 Maine tide mills have been identified.

Bud has personally located many of these mills. He is co-founder of Tide Mill Institute, an organization dedicated to preserving the heritage of America's tide mills, and has documented over 200 of them on the Maine coast from Kittery to Lubec.

SATURDAY, MAY 28

SUNDAY, MAY 29

Damariscotta Mills Fish Ladder

DAMARISCOTTA MILLS
FISH LADDER RESTORATION

9TH ANNUAL FISH LADDER RESTORATION FESTIVAL

Memorial Day Weekend
Sat & Sun 10 to 6

The 9th Annual Fish Ladder Restoration Festival will take place on Memorial Day weekend. In addition to lots of alewives to view, we'll have most of the great festival events you've come to know and a few new events to keep the weekend lively.

New events include a road race (5K and 10K) on Sunday morning at 8 am and a cool concert by the Adam Ezra Group on Sunday night, May 29. We've talked about having a road race for years and now it will happen, with a couple of great courses and some surprise prizes. If you run (or walk the 5K), don't miss the opportunity to keep in shape and help alewives! The concert should be amazing---the Adam Ezra Group has won "Best of Boston" and they're lots of fun!! They'll be on stage at the Lincoln Theater in Damariscotta at 7:30 pm. Get your tickets early by contacting Bobby Whear at 441-2313 or Alewives Fabrics at 207.563.5002 or Milling Around 207.563.1210.

Other events will include great food – pig roast on Saturday, lobster and crab rolls on Sunday, hot dogs, hamburgers and veggie burger both days, oyster till they run out, beer and more (yup-not to forget the Alewife fisheye pudding ice cream!); kid's activities including a touch tank and the ever popular osprey game, lots of live music and, best of all, wildlife up close and personal. Walk the entire fish ladder and see the fish up close, watch osprey dive, eagles in the sky above.

For more festival details, see the website at www.damariscottamills.org
